PARK THRONGED FOR MAY DAY PICNIC

Ideal Weather Lures Large Attendance

Cougars Play Folsom In Game Starting At 2:30 O'Clock To Conclude Day's Sport Program

Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park was the mecca for El Dorado County residents Saturday for the annual May Day picnic.

Ideal weather for the first time in several years resulted in an early start on the program and there were predictions at mid-morning that attendance for the day would set an all-time record.

The feature of the afternoon program is a baseball game between the Cougars and the Folsom high school, opening at 2:30 o'clock, in which many El Dorado County fans will have their first opportunity to see the Cougars in action this year.

The Cougars, champions of the Mother Lode league, play Elk Grove high school Tuesday afternoon on the home lot for an intersectional championship.

The picnic program got away to a prompt start shortly after 9 o'clock when Grammar School Principal John H. Palmer and the 20-30 Club committee called the athletes of 15 grammar schools of the county together for their track and field meet.

Meanwhile, Superintendent E. J. Fitzgerald got his horseshoe tournament under way and these were to be followed by the program of school stunts, the May Pole dance and the selection of the county's entry in the contest at the Salinas rodeo naming California's Out-Door Girl for 1937. In this event Miss Evelyn Berriman was selected.

Charles W. Ball and the El Dorado County band were heard in a morning concert and luncheon arrangements were well taken care of by the picnickers in providing their own lunches, and John Winkelman and the American Legion committee, with their usual side-dish of beans.

Lions had their refreshment booth in operation as usual and prospects were for a great day in every way.

Patterson Is President

Rod And Gun Club Has 60 Members To Start Year

Dick Patterson of Cold Springs, was elected president of the El Dorado Rod and Gun Club at the annual dinner meeting of the club at Hotel Raffles Friday night. Patterson succeeds Dr. L. B. Rantz.

Other officers chosen are Don H. Goodrich, vice-president, and John Winkelman, secretary.

Directors include Dr. Rantz, Harry Bell, Archie McNie and Walter Drysdale, of Georgetown.

Important as a legislative recommendation was the club's adoption of a resolution urging the Fish and Game Commission to close Loon Lake to fishing after October 1st.

The Rod and Gun Club has 60 members for the 1937 season, it was reported following the meeting. Memberships are still being received and it is expected that many additional sportsmen will enroll, since the membership fee is used to pay expenses in connection with fish propagation in the county.

Many members of the Mt. Ralston Fish Plantnig Club, of Sacramento, which co-operates with the El Dorado Rod and Gun Club in fish and game propagation in the county, were in attendance.

They were headed by President William Bahr and others in the delegation included Ross Pierce, George Olmstead, "Dutch" Daum, and Dom Civitello, who introduced a representative of the Peters Cartridge Com-

PARTY FINANCE CAMPAIGN IN BOG

WASHINGTON (UP)—Democratic plans to raise $10,500,000 for political purpose during the four years of President Roosevelt's second term have bogged down somewhere within the national committee organization.

The fund raising program was adopted here January 21 at a national committee meeting. Committee officials told the United Press that so far the plan has not raised a penny nor have any of the proposed 48 states money collectors been named. Secret quotas were to have been assigned each of the more than 3,000 counties in the United States. None has been assigned so far.

Change In Name Of Road Sought

NORWALK, O. (UP)—Ripley Township trustees have asked County Engineer Charles Ogan to change the name of No God Road.

The highway has borne its title for 100 years. Legend is that a stranger traveling over the road one Sunday saw farmers at work and from this lack of piety the road was named.

"Love's News" In Filmland

Tyrone Power Star In Offering At Empire

"All the news that fits we print" is the slogan of Earl Hayes, "editor" of the largest chain of newspapers—those journals for movie purposes only. Almost any picture which shows someone reading a newspaper, or any picture in which the audience is shown a newspaper, displays some of Earl Hayes' special work.

For instance, in the Twentieth Century-Fox film, "Love Is News," starring Tyrone Power, Loretta Young and Don Ameche, showing at the Empire Theater Sunday and Monday, much of the background and plot is conveyed by newspapers. Since real papers cannot be used, special journals must be prepared, and that's where Earl Hayes comes in.

Hayes has a little print shop in the middle of Hollywood. There he prints nothing but newspapers for the movies. For "Love Is News," he created "The Yew York Express," with a type and format all its own. Hayes has type forms to imitate any real paper also. For those scenes in which Don Ameche, as managing editor of the Express, reads the rival journals, Hayes has created facsimiles of every New York paper.

State Should Buy Museum

The State Senate's Finance Committee has before it a bill offered by Senator A. L. Pierovich calling for an appropriation of $18,000 to provide funds for purchase by the state of the James W. Marshall Museum at Kelsey, and its removal to the Marshall Monument State Park, at Coloma.

At a time when economy is, as it should be, a watchword in the affairs of government, we urge upon the legislature and upon the Senate Committee on Finance in particular, the importance of favorable action upon this proposal, which is embodied in Senate Bill 292.

In the name of economy, the state should acquire the James W. Marshall collection.

The state is indeed fortunate that the collection has been preserved and is available. But for the devotion and loyalty of Miss Margaret A. Kelly to California and her history, the Marshall relics might be scattered to the corners of the nation.

Senate Bill 292 provides the opportunity for the state to acquire the collection and the bill should, by all means, pass. It is not true economy to have it otherwise.

Two Named On Fruit Pact

Committees Chosen For County In '37 Agreement

Members of commodity committees for 1937 under the federal marketing agreement and order regulating the shipping of deciduous tree fruits grown in California have been announced by the regional office of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Berkeley.

The committeemen were selected by the Secretary of Agriculture from nominations made by growers at a series of meetings held during February and March throughout producing areas of the state. Committees have been named for Bartlett pears, Elberta peaches, plums and fall and winter pears.

The membership of the committees is chosen annually by the Secretary of Agriculture from nominations made by growers producing the fruits which are

SCHOOL GRADS REUNION ON MAY 16

The annual reunion of those who attended the Newtown school will be held on Sunday, May 16, on the old Newtown school grounds.

This is the second annual reunion of the organization, which was formed last year. All of those who attended the old Newtown school are urged to plan to be present for the reunion on May 16.

Miner Since 1859, No Accidents

STEUBENVILLE, O. (UP)—Harry Carrol, 88, of nearby Wolf Run, is prouder of his 78 years in the mines without a "lost time" accident than he is of being the oldest active coal miner in the United States.

Carrol has been mining since he was 10 year old and recently the mining division of the All-Ohio Safety Congress honored him for his no-accident record and named him the oldest working coal miner in the country.

Supervisor C. E. Green was in town from Diamond on Saturday.

200 At Fun Night, Held Friday At Rescue

Ho, golly!

Approximately 200 members and their parents had the "best time ever" at Rescue hall Friday night when the 4-H Clubs of the county united for their first annual "fun night."

There was an excellent program, arranged by and staged under the direction of Miss Ursula Hogan as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Everett Haslam, Miss Loretta Connors and Miss Marie Weichmann while Mrs. Carroll Miller assisted by leading in community singing.

All the clubs had "stunts."

Newtown, with Miss Ruth Ebbert as leader, sang songs, gave a style show, and offered piano numbers.

Kelsey club members, with Helen Bennett as leader, sang some songs.

Rescue, with Mr. and Mrs. Vinton Veerkamp as leaders, gave a play, sang some songs and offered some banjo, harmonica and piano numbers.

Missouri Flat, with Mrs. Ethel Cody and Mrs. Ed Baum as leaders, presented an original play by Mrs. Baum.

Gold Trail Club, from Coloma, with Mrs. Will Miller as leader, gave a play and sang some songs.

The North Side Club, of which Miss Hogan is leader, had some singing, recitations and some tap dances.

After the program, Rescue Club was host for the refreshments and all departed for their homes looking forward to another big time on the next "fun night."

The doings was arranged by the County 4-H Club Council, of which Al Liddicoet is chairman.

Bishop Of London In 2 Coronations

LONDON (UP)—The Bishop of London is the only ecclesiastic who will be fulfilling the same coronation duties on May 12 as he did in the crowning of King George V. The bishops of Durham and of Bath and Wells have had the privilege of supporting the king since the time of Charles II. The bishop of Durham walks on the king's right hand and the bishop of Bath and Wells on his left.

City School Faced With Emergency

Board May Call New Election To Provide Classrooms, Abandon Auditorium

Placerville's proposed $40,000 improvement of its main grammar school plant was voted down in a special election Friday in which the proposition lacked six votes of the necessary two-thirds majority.

There were 148 votes opposed to the plan and 280 in support of it. Six votes more would have launched the project.

School authorities, disappointed and faced with the pressing need for doing something to relieve over-crowding at the school, will meet Monday night.

Although none of the members of the board of trustees would make a statement in this regard, pending Monday night's meeting, it is reported that the trustees may call a new election upon the basis of revised plans which would provide for additional class rooms but would exclude the auditorium.

The so-called "auditorium" is considered by many to have been a stumbling block to the plan just defeated.

Anglers Off As Season Opens

Large County Area Is Closed Until First Of May

Scores of El Dorado County anglers joined thousands of their brothers and sisters, too, throughout the state early Saturday morning in the official opening of the fishing season.

As usual, the May 1st opening was under restrictions in this county and there was a general convention of fishermen along the few small streams in the Georgetown district which are open.

The balance of the county is closed until May 30.

Several parties were reported heading for the Mokelume River and others were going north into the Bear River country in Placer County and along the upper Yuba.

With the highest water in several years, prospects for fly fishing were virtually nil and bait fishermen were expected to have their share of difficulty.

Child Spurns Both Parents In Row

AKRON, O. (UP)—Sixteen- year-old Madeline Lucille Myers, whose custody became the subject of a legal battle between her divorced parents, settled the squabble by announcing she preferred not to live with either. She will stay at the home of a friend.

The birth of a son, Harry Edward Veerkamp, to Mr. and Mrs. Alburn Veerkamp of Missouri Flat, at Placerville Sanitorium on April 25, was of record Saturday at the courthouse.

And if he got to Germany he could not take the money out of the country. He inherited the money from an aunt in Hirrlingen, he was advised. He asked German relatives to send him a ticket to Germany so he could get the money, but he was told that embargo regulations promulgated February 15, prevent even the sending of a steamship ticket.

Six Schools In Program

300 Attend Rites At El Dorado On Friday

Six schools of the El Dorado area united in Schools Week exercises on Friday night, held at the Masonic hall at El Dorado.

Participating in a program arranged by Harry Cridge, chairman for the evening, were pupils of Diamond Springs, Missouri Flat, Shingle, Latrobe, Brandon and El Dorado schools.

The program included plays, recitations, songs and instrumental numbers and was followed by an address by Principal Linn of the Sacramento high school, about Public Schools Week and the current trend in education.

Exercises were arranged under the supervision of Hiram Lodge No. 43, F. & A. M., and refreshments were served to approximately 300 at the close of the program.

COAST NEEDS AIR BASES, AVERRED

SAN DIEGO (UP)—More large air bases must be built along the Pacific coast if the United States hopes to successfully defend the area against enemy raids in time of war according to Captain Arthur L. Bristol, Jr., commandant of the naval air station here.

The expansion of the navy air force to a point where it can successfully train its squadrons to cope with an attack by an enemy force will require the construction of additional bases, as rapidly as possible, Captain Bristol said.

Reports that the North Island air station is "congested" were confirmed by the naval official.

"Wally" Gets Final Papers Monday

LONDON (UP)—Mrs. Wallis Simpson's application for a final divorce decree is definitely set for hearing in the divorce court Monday. From the moment the decree is granted, Mrs. Simpson and the man who gave up a throne for her, will be able to marry.

Republican Classified Ads Always Pay

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK (U.P.)—My mind, which has been in hibernation since the first snowfall of last winter, finally awoke today and its first bit of business was to decide that Burleigh Grimes is fast going the way of all Brooklyn Dodger managers.

That is, Burleigh is keeping busy 24 hours a day making his personality, his actions, more important than the personality and the actions of his ball club. In doing this he is only following the paved highway of precedent. Wilbert Robinson—"Uncle Robbie"—did it with his kindly, lovable eccentricities. Casey Stengel did it with his rubber face and Jimmy Durante-ish subtleties. And now Grimes is doing it with his Don Quivote like rushes into the windmills that are the umpires.

A tough guy as a player, a tougher guy as a minor league manager. He apparently wants to establish himself as the toughest guy in the majors. The baseball season is not yet two weeks old, but already Grimes has been chased from the park on two occasion. And he was hailed up on the red carpet before President Ford Frick of the National League for a violation of the Abner Doubleday code.

The umpires, it appears, don't suit him. His is the only true eye, his judgment the only sound judgment. So he has made the sanctuaries of the peanut and the hot dog resound with his bellows of rage; thrashed the bright clean air with his paws; and jutted his blue chin to the last jut.

And for what?

This was the second question my recently aroused mind tackled. And it came up with this conclusion:

For nothing!

Some may disagree with my mind. In fact, some may argue that I haven't one. I have heard it said by some astute baseball critics that Grimes, by always fighting with the umpires, inspires his team with the knowledge that he—their manager—is ever ready to take up the cudgels in their defense.

This doesn't add up. Managers never win fights with umpires, and after Grimes has lost seven or eight in a row it is bound to give his charges a defeatist complex. They are apt to begin saying something like this when Burleigh rushes forth to do battle:

"There the old man goes to take another licking. Doesn't he ever win one?"

I have heard other critics say that baseball customers relish a fight. Perhaps they do relish a fight, but how many honest to goodness fights do they ever see? Of all athletes, baseball players are the worst fighters. Their bark is terrific, but when it comes right down to throwing punches—punches that count—their bite is strictly poodlish. They scream home runs and throw bunts.

But to get back to my original subject—that of Grimes stealing the show from his team. He reminds me, as did his predecessors, of the theatrical director who, unwilling to remain in obscurity while his players performed, kept rushing from the wings shouting: "Wow! Whoops! Here I am!"

Mrs. F. F. Moran is expected Saturday evening from Berkeley to join Mr. Moran in establishing their home here. Mr. Moran is the administrative assistant at Eldorado Forest headquarters.

Coronation Curiosities

By Harold S. Corbin

Tradition names Julius Ceaser as founder of the Tower of London

NO STRIKING HORSE

Copyright, 1937, United Features Syndicate, Inc.

London is ready for 2,000,000 visitors to the coronation from all over the world. The streets of the ancient city will be thronged as perhaps never before in all its long history. Because the city is so old, many of the streets over which the coronation parade passes will be much narrower than the broad way of the Mall, which stretches from Buckingham Palace toward Whitehall.

London has always experienced traffic troubles on coronation day. When Charles II came to the throne, in the year 1660, a proclamation was issued "for the better regulating his Majesties Royall Proceedings from the Tower of London to his Palace at Whitehall the 22th day of April next, being the day before his Maties Coronation."

Apparently everybody wanted to be close to the King, and the Tower of London was in danger of bulging to collapse if that was permitted. So out of "his Maties care for preventing of all disorder," it was expressly stated that "no person whatever but the Nobility, privy Councellors, the Gentlemen of their Horse and their Servants in Liveryes presume to come into the Tower that day, nor to bring in any Horses but those belinging to his Matie and to his Higness the Duke of Yorke, and to the Nobility and Councellors."

All others were to stay outside on Tower Hill. Whoever took part in the procession was to be at his post by "eight of the clock," although there was an exception. His Majesty's special escourt, the Duke of York's Horse Guards, serving in the van of the procession, was to be drawn up "early in the morning" at Crutchet Fryers "ready to march when they shall be directed."

For further prevention of disorder it was proclaimed "that no person whatsover dose that day, ride upon any unruly or striking Horse."

Farmers Pay U. S. Loans

Six Millions Made Available For Resettlement

SAN FRANCISCO —Carrying out its program of helping low-income farm families to regain their economic independence, the Resteelement Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, has made loans of approximately $6,400,000 in Arizona, California, Utah and Nevada, the regional office in San Francisco announced today.

This sum includes $6,144,694 in rehabilitation loans to 7291 borrowers; and $234,279 in loans to more than 50 co-operative associations, of which the members were principally rehabilitation loan clients. It also includes $234,279 in loans by the state rural rehabilitation corporations, later taken over by the Resettlement Administration.

Arizona farmers have borrowed, in the form of rehabilitation loans, $539,876; California farmers, $3,173,575; Nevada farmers, $314,587; Utah farmers, $2,350,916. TRADE AT HOME

RECIPROCITY

RECIPROCITY is one of the big words much favored by international diplomats.

It sounds a little more polite than the common expression, "you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours." But it comes right down to the same thing.

Nations get along by helping each other, just like states, cities, communities and families.

You help me and I'll help you. It's as simple as that.

Every purchase you make in Placerville from your home town merchant, helps him to help you; helps him to give you better service, better merchandise, and better prices.

It helps make employment for our home town folks, helps make prosperity for all of us.

Patronize Placerville merchants—it pays!

And, Incidentally

OUR printing facilities are at your service. We are prepared to supply you with finest quality printing for cards, stickers, posters, placards and other requirements. Patronize local industry. See that your cards bear our label. Let us advise you on type styles, layouts, and effective publicity for your campaign.

SHINGLE SPRINGS

E. Stein has returned from the hospital in Placerville where he spent a week or more for treatment of the flu. He is somewhat improved.

E. Taylor and a couple of other men were up from Folsom for a day or two, cutting up a large liveoak tree which fell in a recent snow storm, from the weight of the wet snow. The tree is on the Taylor place, here.

Mrs. Dewey Taylor and little sons returned home Sunday from a two weeks visit at the bay city.

Ab Bliss was here recently on a business mission. He was seeking a homesite of about three acres. A piece of land in Shingle met his approval, a place which would give him a wonderful view of the mountains above here if it could be purchased from the owner. We have not learned as yet whether he acquired this certain parcel or not. Mr. Bliss was a former resident of Placerville but of later years has been residing in Sacramento.

Mr. and Mrs. Euel Gray and Warren Tobey attended the funeral of Silas Grainger, having come from Placerville.

Among visitors at the Taylor home here recently were Mrs. Ida Phillips of Fair Oaks and Mrs. Grace Mocettini of Latrobe.

Clyde Hodgkin was recently initiated as a member of Cosumnes Lodge No. 63 of Odd Fellows at Latrobe. On Monday, April 26, he expected to take the first degree of Odd Fellowship. Members from here joined in the initiation. Clyde Hodgkin is the rural mail carrier from Shingle to Latrobe and from Shingle to Clarksville.

Silas Grainger who passed away on Saturday, April 24, had resided in Shingle for many years. Quite a number of years he spent in a cabin next to Judge Taylor's home, in fact until just before moving last summer to be with his niece near Kingsville. Often times he mentioned coming to California with his parents when only 10 years of age, stating he was born in Kentucky on April 4, 1849. Deceased has been a miner the greater part of his life, and worked in mines in Bodie, Grass Valley, El Dorado, Amador, Calaveras, and Plumas Counties. He has discovered several pockets during his mining days. He was among the oldest of the pioneers of our county and was a well respected citizen of this community and leaves a wide circle of friends here and elsewhere who will be grieved to learn of his passing. He leaves a sister in San Jose, the only member of the original Grainger family, now living. He leaves also quite a number of nieces and nephews, among them, the niece living at Kingsville and a nephew, William Nichols, who resided here with him for a while and has been in this district for sometime. The funeral took place here on Monday. He was laid to rest in the Shingle Springs cemetery among his many old time friends. Quite a number attended the funeral to pay the last tribute of respect to a worthy pioneer.

GEORGETOWN

Frances H. Elliot came up from Sonoma Saturday. He purchased some land on Dry Creek, recently.

R. C. M. Berriman made a trip to Sacramento, Monday.

Allan Barnes and sister, Miss Florence Barnes and Mrs. Charles Irish, drove to Sacramento, Monday.

Mrs. Archie Lawyer and daughter, Ethel of Lotus, were up for the Townsend Club card party Friday evening.

District Deputy President Henrietta Hume of Garden Valley, and Supervising District Deputy President, Nora Gray of Placerville, made their official visit to El Dorado Parlor, N. D. G. W., at the regular meeting of the parlor on Saturday afternoon. There were about 20 members on hand to greet them. The lodge room was decorated with purple and white iris and purple and white lilacs. During the meeting a short program was given. After the meeting adjourned, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served at individual tables with centerpieces of purple violets and white bridal wreath. Out of town members attending were Ida Bailey, Geneva Rossi, Nora Gray, Kathleen Richardson of Placerville; Henrietta Hume, Nellie Schlein of Garden Valley; and Georgia Gardiner of Greenwood.

Mrs. Charles Irish was visiting in Placerville, Friday.

The card party given by the Townsend Club Friday evening was well attended. There were nine tables.

Rolon Irish and family of Placerville, were visitors at the Charles Irish home on Dry Creek, Sunday.

The ball game between Camp Bradley CCC and the Georgetown team here Sunday, resulted in a score of 5 to 3 in favor of Georgetown.

Francis Bacchi and sister, Miss Bethel Bacchi, were up from Lotus Sunday. Francis is a member of the Georgetown baseball club.

Miss Minnie Smith came up from Vallejo last week for a short visit with her folks, here.

El Dorado Parlor, N. D. G. W., will give a card party in the upper I. O. O. F. hall Friday evening, April 30.

GARDEN VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Wills motored up Monday on business.

The first dance of the season will be given at the Garden Valley hall, May 8th. Supper will be served by the club ladies.

Creed and Carl Weinscott of Sacramento, were up Sunday completing plans for a mill to be built on the Rolfe property.

"LEST WE FORGET" — TWENTY YEARS AGO

Part 6—"On to Victory"

ONCE in the full swing of war activities, America surprised the world by the efficient conduct of her part in the big scrap. Early in 1918 the United States had nearly 1,000,000 men in France, completely equipped, ready for the front. The German High Command, anxious to achieve victory before the Americans could make themselves felt, started several offensives which compelled Uncle Sam's armies to take the field sooner than expected. In June, 1918, Americans helped the French stop the German drive at Chateau Thierry, smashing the enemy's hope ever of reaching Paris. In July the Americans, now veterans, fought in the Champagne, the Ourcq and the Vesle regions until, in September, they staged their first independent operation by driving the Germans out of the St. Mihiel sector, capturing 16,000 prisoners and 443 guns. At home the drives for the Liberty Loans progressed successfully, the nation accepted war sacrifices, built war gardens, had days without meat, gasoline and heat, and started to round up slackers. More men moved almost daily into cantonments throughout the country to receive training before joining units for service overseas.

Above — Sinking a German submarine. Here is one of the most dramatic pictures taken in the war. It shows the German U58 awash, with her crew surrendering to the U. S. Destroyers Fanning and Nicholson. Well placed depth bombs of these destroyers blasted this terror of the seas from below on November 17, 1917. The crew was taken to the United States and interned. The boat sank before the victors could save it. U. S. Omcial Photo.

Left — Lighter side of war. A Salvation Army lassie makes doughnuts for doughboys. The tin derby and ready-to-hand gas mask were necessary at points adjacent to the battle front for emergency use.
